City Trustees.

The city trustees met Monday and Tuesday evenings as a board of equalization. With one exception the assessment books were accepted as offered. The one application for a reduction was from the Anita Mining Company, which assessment was reduced from $2250 to $1250.

The Library Tax.

How to get rid of the library tax is the question now agitating the city trustees. It will be remembered that when this matter was mooted the Ledger expressed the opinion that the conditions here were not such as to justify any action toward the establishment of a public library. A large element of the population belonging to the non-reading and non-English speaking class. But the idea of getting a $10,000 gift from Carnegie was the alluring bait. Many people, under the impression that Carnegie would dip his hand into his pocket and dump $10,000 into the hands of the trustees for library purposes without any conditions or restrictions, were of course favorable to the scheme. But that is not the way of the Carnegie donations. The city must supplement the gift with funds toward the site, and also guarantee a certain amount, not less than $1000 annually, for the support of the library. With this outlook the ardor for the Carnegie library abated, and has now dropped below zero. A tax of 10c was levied last year for this fund, realizing about $600. How to get rid of this levy and throw the library fund into the scrap heap is the question now before the house. This is another illustration of the wisdom of the old saying, "Look before you leap." It is said it will require a petition signed by one-fourth of the electors to nullify the action already taken in this direction.

Farewell Party.

Wednesday evening, August 5th, a farewell party was given at the home of Mr and Mrs A. W. Darling of Quartz Mt., in honor of the Messrs Sam Isaminger and Will Adams and Miss Nellie Barnett.

Miss Barnett, who has been a guest of the Ford girls, returned to Oakland, where she attends high school. Mr Adams, who has been spending his vacation at the Fremont for the purpose of obtaining practical experience in mining, returned to Berkeley, where he also attends high school.

Mr Isaminger left for Sacramento, where he met his brother-in-law, Ellis Henderson, and they left together for Fort Jones, Siskiyou county, where they will accept positions that await them.

Many of Amador's most popular young people were present and there was also a number from Quartz Mt. and Bunker Hill, namely: Misses Susie and Alma Witte, Emily Rojas, Louisa Bennetts, Marie Arthur, Beatrice Jeffery, Elsie Rule, Ida Isaminger, Kate Arnise, Madge and Lizzie Ford, Alice and Agnes Hultado, Nellie Barnett, Edna Henderson, Mr and Mrs A. W. Darling, Mrs Nettie Rule, Mrs Grace Henderson, Messrs Morton Hambly, Ray Witte, Frank Kelly, Louie Cassella, Clarence Gatten, Sam and Ben Bennetts, Ed. and James Jeffery, Fred Labadie, Sam Isaminger, Will Adams, Walter Arthur, Elton Rule and Frank Hultado.

The evening was spent in playing games, singing and dancing. Refreshments were served at midnight, after which several songs were sung, and then bidding farewell to one and all they departed. All reported having a good time. "Quartz is not so slow after all."

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our general superintendent, Mr Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by Jackson's drug store, Spagnoli, prop.

Arrested on Embezzlement Charge

Peter Dabovich, cashier of the Sutter Creek State Bank up to the time it closed, was arrested in Sutter Creek Saturday afternoon by Sheriff Gregory, and brought to Jackson. The complaint had been sworn to before Judge Goldner on the 27th of July by Michele Fauchiano, a barber in Sutter Creek. In the complaint he charges Dabovich with the embezzlement of $898.76. He alleges that he placed this sum with the bank to be sent to Italy, from which he says no returns have been received, and of which no account has been kept in the books. As soon as they heard of Dabovich's predicament, Fred Werner and Frank N. Soracco came over from Sutter Creek and furnished the required amount of bonds, $10,000, to restore the accused to liberty pending examination. This criminal action is the first of its kind in connection with the muddled-up affairs of the defunct bank. It is rumored that other criminal suits are to follow. Dabovich has the sympathy of many. He was merely an employee of the bank, subject to the orders of his superior officers. While he must have known of the tampering of cash, and the conditions of stress generally, he was buoyed up by the hope that everything would be straightened out satisfactorily. He reaped no benefit from the departures from strick banking methods.

Diarrhoea Cured

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by Jackson's drug store, Spagnoli, prop.

Fatal Termination.

The sad news was received here Sunday that Mrs. Maurice Newman died early that morning in San Francisco. Deceased's maiden name was Jennie Maud Gatten, a resident of Amador City, in which town her parents are still living. She was married quietly in September last, and the fact of the wedding became known here only a few weeks ago. Three weeks ago deceased gave birth to a child, and at the same time she was seriously ill of typhoid fever. The many friends of the deceased deeply deplore her departure in the bloom of young womanhood. The remains were brought to this county, and the funeral took place in Amador on Wednesday last.

The services were conducted by the Rev. E. U. Brun, according to the rites of the Episcopal Church, in the presence of a large attendance of citizens desirous of paying the last tribute of respect to the deceased.

Ball Game Sunday.

The Amador City and Electra baseball teams met on the local diamond last Sunday and played a close game of ball, the score at the end being 4 to 5 in favor of the Electra team. The Amador boys had Gafney, pitcher for the Diamond Springs, twirl the ball, besides filling in a couple other positions from out of town. Three of the Jackson team played with the Electras. The last time the two teams met was in Amador, Electra being beaten by a score of 23 to 18. The line-up was as follows:

On May 8, 1902, the beautiful city of St. Pierre with a population of 30,000, was snuffed out of existence by the eruption of Mount Pelee. Since then, little by little, the dwellers in the neighborhood of the city who saved their lives by flight, have returned to the farms and fields they formerly cultivated. The fertility of the fields had been greatly increased by the volcanic matter deposited on the surface. In time a feeble revival of St. Pierre ensued, until now about 5,000 persons are once more living on the site of the former city, the steamships have begun to call, and a municipal government is under consideration.

The Arson Cases.

In the trial of Domenico Manzo, one of the four charged with wilfully burning the Summit House hotel in February last, the case was submitted to the jury at three o'clock last Friday. It was after seven the same evening before they reached a verdict of guilty of arson in the second degree. Wednesday was the time set for passing sentence, but upon petition of defendant's attorney, Creely, sentence was passed Tuesday morning. Mr Creely addressed the court, stating that Manzo had always borne a good reputation and asked that the sentence be as light as possible. Judge Rust sentenced defendant to a term of twelve years in San Quentin. Attorney Creely motioned for a new trial, which was denied. He then filed notices of appeal in the cases of Domenico Manzo and Agostino Borello.

Marco Borello, who was also accused of being implicated in the same crime was set free Monday morning at the request of the district attorney, on the grounds that the prosecution had not been able to secure sufficient evidence against defendant to warrant them proceeding with the trial. He was immediately released from custody and Tuesday morning left for San Francisco.

The trial of C. Lepori, a prominent San Francisco merchant, who was also charged with the same crime, was to have commenced Tuesday morning, but upon motion of the district attorney the case was dismissed. Vicini said he was obliged to confess that the district attorney's office did not have sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction, and that it would be useless to incur the expense of a trial. C. Lepori was present in the court room when the charge was dismissed.

From Silver Lake.

C. E. Reynolds came down from Silver Lake Monday, where he has been rusticated on the cattle range of the Plasse Brothers. He reports a large number of tourists flocking to the mountain region this season, given there to escape the intense heat of the lower lands. But the mountain craters are also experiencing a heated spell this year, such as old mountaineers who have spent the summers there for many years past never before experienced. The thermometer has mounted to between 70 and 80 each day, and that is climbing some for that region.

High School Opens This Month.

The Union high school at Ione will reopen on Monday August 31st. The school will be under new management, Prof. Burbank being displaced as principal by Prof. Van Horn. Prof. Burbank has returned to his home in Colorado. There will be one new instructor, filling the vacancy left by Mr Burbank. A number of Jackson grammar school graduates expect to enter this term.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Jackson Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs C. Williams, living on Pitt street, Jackson, Cal., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to say that they act as represented. When I commenced their use, I was in a very bad way as the result from kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a box at the City Pharmacy and began their use. My kidneys are now in fine condition and I feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and taken no other

MINING NOTES.

Central Eureka.—Operations have been delayed at this mine, because of the non-arrival of a number of special pieces of timber from Oregon, which will be used in the erection of a stand for an oil tank. They will arrive here some time this week, and as soon as they are in place about forty men will be put to work at repairing the shaft. It will be some time before the damages can be repaired. The general opinion is that this mine, by judicious management is destined to again enter the dividend-paying list. Twenty-four hundred feet, as the history of mining in Amador county fully demonstrates, is a long way from the depth at which pay rock may be expected to be encountered along this lode; and the fact that the Central Eureka has been a lavish producer of the precious metal for a series of years, encourages those now in control to re-open it, and explore it more thoroughly.

South Eureka.—We understand they have commenced the erection of a cable tramway from the mine to the Central Eureka mill. The South Eureka has more rock than can be handled in its own 20 stamp mill, so it is proposed to use 20 stamps of the Central Eureka until that mine has reached a stage of development that will again require its full milling capacity, which is not likely to be for a considerable time.

Original Amador.—There is nothing doing at this mine, situated at Amador City, between the Keystone and Bunker Hill mines. Operations came to a standstill about a month ago, owing to a mishap to the machinery.

Bunker Hill.—This mine according to current reports continues to look remarkably well, as the development work progresses. It is proposed to sink the shaft 400 feet deeper, carrying it down to over 1900 feet. This will give two more levels, 200 feet apart. The present bottom level is 1550 feet.

Del Monte.—At a meeting of the stockholders of this company held in Jackson recently, a resolution was passed selling the entire properties, situated in the Sheephorn mining district, in Calaveras county, to the Del Monte Goldfield Mining Company, the headquarters of which are in Goldfield. The purchase price is 50,000 shares of stock in the Del Monte Goldfield to be distributed pro rata to the stockholders of the Del Monte M. & M. Co., this stock is estimated at 25 cents per share, making $12,500. The stockholders in the old Del Monte are the principal stockholders of the Goldfield concern.

Argonaut.—This mine is moving along, if not as prosperously as in years gone by, at least with encouraging signs that the old-time dividend-paying era will return in due time. Some fine ore was recently encountered. Sinking is still being prosecuted, and another level is about to be opened at 2800 feet. It will be some time before the ore body is opened up so as to supply the mill. Nothing further has been done toward the development of the Argonaut mine embracing the Hoffman field, or the south extension of the Argonaut mine. A new company has been formed for the purpose of its development, and it is reported that steps will be taken to sell stock, but nothing definite is known at present beyond the circle of those specially interested. It is rumored that ore has been struck on the 1600 level running into the Hoffman ground by an upraise from the 1600 to the 1400 level. We are not able to give anything definite in regard to this matter, except that there is every reason to believe that it is well-founded. This really is the best news that has been reported in this camp for a long time. The point where the ore is said to have been found is nearly midway in the Hoffman ground, which leaves ample room north and south for the development of extensive ore chambers within the limits of the claim. It is hoped that steps will soon be taken to put down a shaft, and proceed to develop this mine independent of the Argonaut company.

Campo Seco Copper Mine Has a Fire.

A press dispatch of Aug. 8 says: The rock crushing plant at the Penn Chemical Company's copper mines was completely destroyed by fire last night, causing the shutting down of the smelter and the loss of about $25,000.

The blaze started at about 7:30 o'clock, at a point near where the electric wires enter the building. Last evening the men quit work at about 6:30 o'clock. It is believed that the fire was either started by defective electrical wiring or spontaneous combustion. Those who incline to the latter theory point to the fact that the workmen's washroom was filled with greasy clothing and the temperature was at 102 degrees.

The roundhouse in which the locomotive which is used to haul ore down from the mines to the smelter was stored, was burned but the engine was saved. Only by valiant fighting were the big smelter and adjoining buildings saved. The fire-fighters were handicapped by a scarcity of water. Fortunately, there was no breeze and the flames shot straight upwards. Otherwise the entire plant would have been destroyed.

Fire broke out in the Campo Seco hotel, of which James Kyno is proprietor, last night, but the damage was slight. One of the guests left a candle burning in his room, and it was blown over upon a pile of papers.

Preston School Shops Closed.

As a result of the small amount of water running into the Preston school reservoir, which lies among the hills back of the school, the trustees have found it necessary to have the machine shops at the school closed. All the machinery at the school is run by water power, which was supplied by the reservoir, which also supplies the water for fire fighting purposes. The trustees propose to install a gasoline engine to turn the wheels of the machine shops. They also expect to begin immediately the replacement of the building destroyed by fire last week.

Japanese Government Looking Into Electric Power System.

As showing the interest taken by the Japanese in every department of mechanical science, an agent of that government was here last week to investigate the big power plant at Electra. His name is S. PIONEER FLOUR always has been and still is the best.

THE KREVO
MURDER CASE

Nothing new has transpired toward the unravelment of the murder of Ella Krev, who was shot two weeks ago while sleeping in the rear of his home near the Argonaut mine. The two brothers, George and Marco Krev, have vacated the premises. They left there the middle of last week, being afraid to stay there, as they say, after the tragedy in the violent death of the older brother. They have moved into one of the boarding houses in town.

The girl, Kate Krev, who was kept at the Globe hotel under surveillance for over a week, was removed to the county jail on Monday. No formal charge has been made. She is suspected of knowing more about the brother's death than she has told. In appearance she is a mere child, clad in short dresses; but evidently of stronger mind than her child like appearance would indicate. The officers have failed to get from her any information that would throw further light on the murder mystery. She claims that she does not know, if she does know she refuses to tell. She is kept in the front room of the jail, and is a prisoner in every sense of the word.

Some were inclined to doubt whether the killing was reported by the girl soon after the shooting occurred. No one had come forward who heard the shot. Tom Holitho, who is employed at the Kennedy, says he heard one shot, and remarked the fact to his wife about shooting at so late an hour. This was before 9 o'clock, but not more than a quarter of an hour before the curfew bell was rung. According to this there could not have been but a short time, not more than ten or fifteen minutes, from the shooting until the girl left for town to report.

A sheriff's posse went out Tuesday to search for the pistol. A reward of $20 has been offered for its recovery. A thorough search about the fields and water ditch failed to find it. It is probable that the weapon was thrown into some abandoned shaft, as there are several not far from the scene of the shooting.

Before the homicide Kate Krev addressed a letter to Nick Breic, Sacramento, registered. This was returned to the Jackson postoffice as uncalled for. The party the letter was sent to is a young man to whom the girl was attached, and who she went to see when she left home a week before the murder. When returned to the sender, Sheriff Gregory accompanied her to the postoffice Sunday evening to receive it. She protested that she had not written it. When it was opened, and found to have her name signed to it, she still claimed that she never wrote it nor signed it; and said that John Dabovich signed her name to it. Dabovich, who is employed at the brewery here denied knowing anything about the letter. When taken to the jail to see the girl, Kate accused him of falsehood in denying that he signed it. However, she finally acknowledged the authorship of the missive. The letter contained nothing bearing upon the homicide, but the incident shows the determined character of the girl.

Made a Bluff at Suicide To Frighten Lady Love.

The Sacramento Bee of the 11th has the following dispatch from Placerville, El Dorado county. There is probably some mistake in the name, Vernardis is not on the register. It is no doubt intended for Bernardis:

Chester Vernardis was taken from here yesterday by his brother to Amador county. Vernardis is a young man about 20 years of age. He made things lively here Saturday night and again Sunday by going through the motions of killing himself with what at the time was supposed to be poison. It is alleged that he was jilted by his lady love, who is employed here in an ice cream parlor.

Some time ago the young woman in question came here from Sutter Creek to escape, it is said, the unwelcome attention of Vernardis. He followed about two weeks ago, secured employment here, and began a siege on the citadel of her heart.

Because she did not receive him with favor, he warned her Saturday night of the consequences if she still continued to refuse his attention, and still meeting discouragement after this, he retired to the rear of the place where the young woman is employed and took a large dose of peroxide of hydrogen. As he frothed at the mouth, and otherwise seemed about to die, a doctor was called and he was taken to a hotel. As he never was in any danger, the doctor did not tarry long. The young man is now at Sutter Creek.

PIONEER FLOUR always has been and still is the best.

Obituary Notice.

Drytown, August 9th. Notices posted last Friday read: "Died—July 7, at his home in Drytown, Edward M. Giannini, aged 21 years."

Patient and long suffering Eddie has at last been relieved of all the pain that had racked and torn his body for the past twelve years. Notwithstanding his sufferings he was kind and gentle to everyone, never complaining, always in good spirits, sympathizing with all in their afflictions and sorrows, ever ready to lend his assistance to any undertaking. Eddie has passed, but the memory of a gentle boy will remain with all those who knew him. His will power and a firm determination to recover were remarkable in one so young. Every care and attention that loving parents and a devoted sister could give were bestowed on him. His sister, Miss Stella, left her duties at the Fabiola hospital, Oakland, to give him her careful attention during his last hours.

The services were conducted at the home of deceased's parents by the Rev. Mr Kunkle, who spoke comforting words to the bereaved ones, and admonitions to the friends. Mrs H. E. Potter of Plymouth led the choir, which rendered appropriate selections. Eddie, though art gone but not forgotten. One who loved him.

The Jackson Brewery.

L. H. Young, accompanied by H. B. Hanscom, the deputy revenue collector, drove up from Sacramento Tuesday. Mr Young is here for the purpose of pushing the deal to purchase the Jackson brewery from John Stroh.

The plan is to incorporate a company, and sell the stock almost exclusively in Amador county. Mr Young is here to see how much of the undertaking will be financed locally, and will not go outside unless it becomes absolutely necessary. It is inevitable that the capacity of the ice plant connected with the brewery must be doubled. Carloads of ice have to be brought from outside to supply the demand. Of course there is comparatively little profit in importing ice, but manufactured at home, there is a good margin of profit.

LOCAL NEWS

Pioneer flour is the best; have no other.

Robert Ousby, foreman of the Kennedy mine, returned from Los Angeles county over a week ago. He had been at a seaside resort there to recuperate after a serious attack of typhoid fever, attended part of the time by a trained nurse, and also by Mrs. Ousby. He returns apparently fully restored in health. He weighs 175 pounds—more than he did before his sickness. In his limbs he still feels the effects of the siege of illness, but expects to resume his duties at the mine in a short time.

Robert Adams, who came up last week from San Jose on a brief visit to his mother, and sister, Mrs. Alex Eudey left Monday morning for New York via San Francisco. He has adopted the stage as a profession, and has taken prominent parts in plays from San Diego to Sacramento. He is an Amador county young man, and was raised mostly in Jackson. We wish him every success in his profession on the Atlantic coast.

W. C. Hoss, the inventor of a new tooth for mowing machines, enabling a broken tooth to be replaced by the mower in the harvest field in a few seconds, is making arrangements to have the invention manufactured and put on the market. All experts who have looked into the merits of the invention pronounce it a valuable improvement upon existing harvesting machinery, and that the inventor ought to reap a substantial reward for his contrivance.

The first load of lumber from the new sawmill on the Piccardo land in Pioneer district was brought down last week. It consisted of about a thousand feet. The mill is owned by J. M. Parsons, and is operated by himself and his two sons. The capacity of the mill is about 5000 feet per day.

Last Sunday the Sutter Creek baseball nine went up to New York Ranch and played a game with a team picked up around there. Sutter Creek won the game by the close score of 2 to 1.

Miss Edna Palmer returned home Sunday evening, after a visit of two months with relatives in Oroville.

One of the merchants of Jackson met with an unlooked for loss last Saturday. The weather was of the hazy complexion. It is usual for the merchants to get butter from the creamery by freight over the I. & N. road, and take it from the cars immediately upon its arrival, otherwise there is a flattering chance that the butter will be converted into oil. That is just what happened to a case of butter weighing 60 pounds. A slight delay in calling for this perishable merchandise made it commercially useless.

Mr and Mrs Eugene Schwartz and son Leon, also Leo Schwartz, returned home Friday evening, after a three weeks' stay at Capitola.

James Mushett returned to Jackson last Monday evening, after a protracted visit in San Francisco. He has been all over the mining camps of Nevada since he left here to see the fleet arrival in May, but is glad to get home to Jackson. He found no place to be compared with home, minerally speaking.

Some time during Friday night the nickel-in-the-slot machine in Burgin's saloon, was rifled of about $50—the total contents of the receptacle known as the jackpot. The thief entered the rear of the premises, and simply smashed the heavy glass forming the bottom of the jackpot, after forcing open the front of the machine. It was full of quarter dollar pieces. There was over $100 in the other compartments in the back of the machine, but no attempt was made to get this. There is no clew to the perpetrator.

Mrs. Agnes Steckel, who has been staying at the National hotel with her mother, returned to her home near the Gwin mine Sunday and from there will go to Berkeley, where she will re-enter Miss Head's school.

F. B. Joyce returned Monday from a flying trip to Los Angeles, and the same evening went to his home at Defender.

Mrs. Kirkwood, came down Sunday morning from their ranch in the mountains and will remain here awhile before returning.

Frank Cuneo and Wallace Jones, neither of them over 15 years; killed a rattlesnake last Monday within half a mile from town, on the Jones ranch. It was coiled up, and sprung its rattle as the boys drew near, which was the first thing that attracted their attention. They tackled the reptile with rocks and managed to kill it. It had seven rattles. The body was disposed of to Chinamen who make some use of the hide.

Mrs. Alex Eudey left Monday morning for San Francisco, to join her husband there. Thence they intend to take a trip north through Oregon and Washington.

George Thomas has put in a neat front in the store building adjoining the butcher shop, and painted and otherwise improved the interior, preparatory to being occupied by the new tailor.

Mr and Mrs Newman came from San Francisco Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Maurice Newman at Amador City on Wednesday. Mrs. Newman brought up with her the infant child of the deceased, and will hereafter take care of it. Maurice Newman also came from the city on account of the funeral ceremonies.

V. M. Colt, the monument man, got capsized on the Kennedy grade yesterday. He was in his buggy when an automobile came along and scared his horse, so that he was unable to control him, and ran into one of Piccardo's freight teams. He escaped with a slight injury to a little finger.

Mrs. Wm. Tam received a letter within the last few days from her husband, who has been visiting in Italy since the middle of June, in which he stated that all the party, which left here together, met in Genoa and are now touring through Italy, visiting all the principal points of interest. After a few weeks they will return to the places where they were visiting and will again meet, returning home in a body about the latter part of next month.

Oscar Reichling, formerly employed as electrician for the Amador Electric Company, arrived Sunday evening. He is now a deputy game warden, and is up here on the lookout for violators of the game laws. We understand he is employed at a fixed salary.

J. E. Wallace, representative of the Waugh Drill Co., arrived here Tuesday evening from Denver, where the company has its offices. A short time ago he installed ten of their make of drills at the Kennedy mine, and now has a new drifting drill working to demonstrate its capacity. Mr. Larsen, another representative of the company, has been in charge of the machine.

Miss Sadie Edsinger, formerly of Pine Grove, but now a teacher in the public school at Lodi, came up a few days ago on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Hanley, of New York Ranch.

Volcano must be on the up grade. There were eight passengers on board when the stage left here for that burg Monday night.

E. F. Taber, who conducted the prosecution in the arson cases, returned Saturday to his home at Auburn.

Detective Bunner came up last Friday evening from San Francisco, to give his testimony in the Manzo case, but that given in the Borello trial was read. He returned Saturday.

Rev. J. Hedgepeth and wife of Sanger, Fresno county, came from there last Friday, and will visit with their son, Tom Hedgepeth, and family.

Frank Demartini died in the county hospital last Friday of miner's consumption, after a lingering illness. He has been around Jackson for the past twenty years, working in the mines most of the time. Since last November he had been an inmate of the hospital.

Mrs. Tobias Hockins is expected home next Sunday from San Francisco. She underwent a critical operation in one of the hospitals there, which turned out very successfully.

The first operation performed in the new operating room recently fitted up at the county hospital was performed by Dr. Endicott, assisted by Dr. Gall, last Tuesday. The patient was Mrs. John Campbell, daughter of Alex Fleming of near New York Ranch. The operation was a success, and the patient is doing nicely.

C. H. Hussner, who ran a tailings plant on a new plan of his own invention for several months below the Argonaut mill, and who more recently installed similar gold saving appliances below the Keystone and Bunker Hill mills at Amador City, has finally quit the business here. He could not make it pay. He has left for Nevada, it is rumored with the intention of installing a tailings plant at Blair, to catch the runaway gold from a hundred stamp mill there.

Sutter Creek State Bank.

Frederick Eudey, receiver of the Sutter Creek bank, recently petitioned the court to allow him to return $200 to the bank commissioners, this being an amount which they failed to hold out when they turned over the funds of the bank to the receiver. The cash on hand at that time was $6,036.02. When the commissioners took charge of the bank and closed its doors they appointed a receiver, agreeing to pay him $100, but through some misunderstanding the commissioners held out only $200, turning over $6,036.20 to the receiver. The court ordered the other $200 paid the commissioners, who in turn will pay it to Soracco.

Some time before the closing of the bank V. M. Colt entered into contract with various parties to erect cemetery monuments, the contracts amounting to $1785, the work to be completed at different dates commencing the first of February this year. It is claimed that the bank had a standing agreement with the Vermont Marble Co. of San Francisco, guaranteeing payment of all orders sent in by Colt. Just before the closing of the bank, that institution entered into agreement with Colt whereby they were to furnish the material for completing the monuments, the contracts for the work being turned over to the bank for collection. But before any material was ordered the commissioners closed the bank, so it could not complete the agreement. On account of orders on previous contracts Colt was allowed to overdraw his account $1684.84. Eudey, as receiver, succeeded in making an arrangement with Colt whereby the bank stands less chance of losing the whole amount. He agreed to turn over to Colt the contracts mentioned above, while the latter waives all claims against the bank for the non-completion of its contract, pays $50 by an accepted order on Carlo Giovannoni payable in thirty days, and also agreed to give Eudey his promissory note for the amount of the overdraft, with interest at seven per cent. On petition of Eudey, the court made an order Wednesday allowing him to complete the agreement.

The Vermont Marble Co. has a claim against the Sutter Creek bank for $1062.28 for material furnished Colt on previous orders, the payment of which they claim was guaranteed by P. Dabovich, as cashier of the bank.

Mining Accidents.

As the result of a cave in one of the levels of the Kennedy mine about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, Dave Cassassa sustained a badly lacerated scalp, a broken collar bone, besides numerous bruises and cuts on his arms and back. He was taken to his room at the Kennedy lodging house, and Dr. Gall called in to dress the wounds.

About four o'clock Wednesday afternoon a large rock rolled on Frank Benditto's foot, while he was at work in the Kennedy, crushing the member badly. Dr. Endicott attended him.

W. H. Cooper and J. C. Davis of Berkeley, representing a company handling East Richmond real estate, are here in the interest of the company, and expect to remain a couple of weeks. From here they will go to Sutter Creek, where they will make a short stay.

Mrs. L. Vegeli, who has been visiting in Eureka, Humboldt county, for the past couple of months, returned to her home here Tuesday evening. She stopped a few days in San Francisco, but found it so cold and disagreeable that she decided to return.

The Rev. E. U. Brun, rector of the Episcopal church, has returned from his vacation, and services in the local church will be resumed next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

John Raggio, who conducts the Kennedy boarding house, had an experience Wednesday afternoon that caused him a great deal of pain, besides frightening him and his sisters. He was stung on the little finger by an ordinary hornet. Under normal conditions one would expect the finger to swell, but within five minutes his face had swollen almost beyond recognition. Dr. Sprague received a frantic call and drove out as fast as possible. He attributed the swelling in the face to the rash that broke out as the swelling went down, and was brought prematurely by the poison of the hornet.

Father Kearney received a postal card the other evening from Father Gleason, who left here a couple of months ago for his old home, stating that he was still in Ireland, and would remain there for a time before leaving for the continent.

Mrs. Oliver Clark was a passenger this morning for Sacramento.

Mrs. Ople Harper received a telegram this morning to the effect that her brother, William J. Williams, died in Bisbee, Arizona, early this morning from pneumonia. The deceased was a native of England, and about 46 years of age. It had been a number of years since Mrs. Harper had any word from him, so she had long supposed him dead.

Fire Near Aetna School.

A brush fire started Tuesday afternoon in a small ravine near the Aetna schoolhouse. The fire is reported to have originated in a singular manner, illustrating how conflagrations may be started without the least culpability attaching to any one. It seems that a boy on horseback was after cattle, and the horse's shoes struck a hard rock or glass in such a way as to produce a number of sparks. The sparks set fire to the dry grass, and in an instant the flames were beyond his control. Neighbors telephoned to town for help, and a number of townspeople started for the scene, and managed to put it out after working for an hour or more. The fire swept over a portion of the Martin ranch, and burned up to within a few yards of the dwelling house.

The old Garrett House at Chinese Camp, which was destroyed by fire a few days ago, was one of the historic landmarks of the state. It was a two-story brick building built over fifty years ago and for many years was conducted by Count Solinsky, a Polish nobleman driven into exile by the Czar of Russia and the father of the well known attorney, Frank Solinsky. For many years the Big Oak Flat road was the leading route to the Yosemite and tourists from all over the world made this house a stopping place. The hotel in those days had a world wide reputation.—Prospect.

While camping in the mountains last week on Silver Creek, Horace Mann, the son of J. F. Mann and wife of this city, was bitten by a rattlesnake on the ankle. Henry Giebenhain was one of the party and was installed as surgeon. He opened he wound, withdrew some of the poison by sucking it, bound tobacco on it, and gave the boy plenty of whisky to drink. Horace came down with a swollen leg, but did not suffer much.—Republican.

Joseph Lyon, the Grizzly Flat merchant, has bought the poles and wires of the Capital Telephone Co., which were used between Placerville and Grizzly Flat when that company was in existence. He paid $75 for the property and this will give him a good chance for a profit notwithstanding limited population. Mr. Lyon is talking of taking down the upper part of the line and relocating along the county road where repairs can be made more conveniently. The line serves Smiths Flat, Pleasant Valley, Sly Park, Blairs Sawmill and Grizzly Flat.—El Dorado Republican.

At McKinney's resort on Lake Tahoe, last Friday, a death occurred which was the result of a scuffle between Eugene Kipp and Ed Vincent, two young men who had previously been friends. Kipp had heard insulting remarks Vincent had made about him, and they went outside to fight it out. Kipp struck Vincent the blow felling him to the ground. Vincent was dead when picked up, the fall, it was thought, having more to do with the fatal result than the blow. At the examination Kipp was released and the case dismissed.—Mountain Democrat.

R. C. Eason of Oakland, W. E. Carlin of Los Angeles and T. C. Huxley of Centerville, Cal., have been registered at the Leger hotel during the week. The gentlemen mentioned are interested in the Chili Gulch Dredging Company, which will work the extensive deposits of tailings in Chili Gulch about a mile from this place. The tailing deposits in Chili Gulch, which in some places are over 75 feet in depth, are the debris from some of the richest hydraulic mines in this state, and by the dredger process, where large amounts are economically handled daily, are bound to yield the precious metal in paying quantities to the operators. We have been informed that all the machinery, lumber and other material will soon be on the ground and with the advent of water there will boom in that locality.—Chronicle.

The latest reports from the fire above Murphys are to the effect that about two miles of the Utica's flume near Avery has been destroyed. All the mines at Angels dependent upon the water supply have been closed down and only water for household purposes can be used. This supply is drawn from the Ross reservoir and is limited. It is reported that considerable friction exists between the forest rangers and the local fire fighters, and some arrests have been made. The local men who are accustomed to fighting fires in that locality object to the methods of rangers who have assumed the direction of affairs. The rangers it is said insist on following the law,—that back fires must not be started more than 60 feet from the fire line, which in the high timber is of little or no use and almost impossible to do on account of the heat. The result of the two methods is that some of the men have been caught between back fires set by the rangers and the local men, and have narrowly escaped with their lives. This, together with the arbitrary summoning of men to fight the fire by the rangers has greatly intensified the feeling. The state forester, we are informed, has a man on the ground.—Prospect.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquinn, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. Samples free at Jackson's drug store, Spagnoli, prop.

We understand that the members of the Raglio Bros. Stage Co. held a meeting in Stockton Thursday at which time the question of disposing of the whole business to Fred Winkler will be decided. Jos. Raglio went through San Andreas Thursday morning to attend the meeting. Fred Winkler stands ready to take over the property at once, the main thing remaining unsettled is the price.—Prospect.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes," says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by Jackson's drug store, Spagnoli, prop.

No Bloodhounds Tolerated.

The Cypress is authority for a statement that "Captain Diefenbacher is busy training a dog, a full-blooded man-chaser" with a pedigree long enough to freeze the blood of a wrong-doer before he bites him, so that he won't bleed. This sagacious beast is to be used by the Monterey city police in pursuit of supposed miscreants and murderers, and the announcement causes the Santa Cruz News to protest thus, crying "shame!" "It strikes us that if the peace officers of Monterey cannot hunt down criminals without bloodhounds they should throw up their jobs for men who can. California is no place, and this enlightened day no time for this barbarous method of pursuing men guilty or suspected of breaking the laws. We regard it as no less than infamous that the officials of Monterey county should be permitted to introduce this inhuman practice, and we hope the courts will promptly set the stamp of their condemnation upon it.

"It is a notorious fact—a fact presenting a bloody stain on the fair fame of a generous, chivalrous people that the bloodhounds of the south have cast more innocent men than guilty into the hands of the lynchers. The blind faith in the bloodhound's scent—a faith which is as unfounded and ignorant as blind—has condemned many a victim of the pursuit before he has had the chance to lift his voice in his defense, while again it has in the same minds sufficed to disprove the statements made by the poor wretch thus tracked down.

"Every man is presumed to be innocent until he is proved guilty. Yet the bloodhound, a dumb brute of savage instincts, is set up by a civilized people as higher than the courts in judgment on human lives! It is monstrous, and Monterey should be ashamed."

GRAFTING ON THE TEACHERS.

In sending out a warning letter to the various boards of school trustees of Mendocino county L. W. Babcock, county superintendent of schools, accuses the Co-operative Teachers' Association of Los Angeles and Oakland with using dummies to drum up business and with grafting on the teachers.

Babcock says the association makes applications for positions in the schools of this county, signing the names of persons supposed to want places as teachers. This enables the association to learn of vacancies, and Babcock states that the teacher who finally gets the place pays a commission to the association, which divides the commission with the person who has allowed her name to be used as a decoy.

"The usual thing is, he says, for the 'applicant' to write back to the trustees saying that she has just accepted a position, but would like to send a friend in her place. It is then so near the opening time of the school that there is little alternative left for the trustees but to write for the 'friend.' Babcock says:

"I have been informed that this association secured the appointment of sixty teachers in one county in the name of Sadie Mills." Besides the Sadie Mills letter he stated he has on file in his office letters from "Nettie Wagner," "Geneva Boggs," "Ruth Redman," "Viola D. Fisher" and "Marion Dartt."

Superintendent Babcock says that a great evil of the system is that it encourages the teachers to travel from one end of the state to the other every four months or at least every year and keep on the rustle all the time, whereas the only schools that are doing effective work are those that hold their teachers from year to year.

An Unsought Pardon.

Among the stories of that former governor of Texas familiarly known as Sam Houston is more than one amusing tale.

There was a financial agent of the penitentiary who had warmly opposed the election of Governor Houston, but was particularly anxious to retain his own pleasantly lucrative position. Consequently the new governor was soon in receipt of a petition in which the man's years of faithful service and special qualifications for the place were set forth in glowing terms by himself.

The governor sent for him and said gravely, "It appears from this petition that you have been in the penitentiary eight years."

"I have," was the reply. "And during that time you have performed faithfully every duty that has come in your way to the best of your ability?"

"I have," answered the agent, his courage swiftly rising.

"Then, sir," said the governor, with the air of one conferring a priceless favor, "I pardon you out."

Put Out of Commission.

Abernethy was supposed to influence people by a brusqueness amounting to absolute rudeness. It is related that one day a very voluble lady took her daughter, who was ill, to see him.

"Which of you two wants to consult me?" said Abernethy.

"My daughter," replied the elder woman.

Abernethy then put a question to the girl. Before she had a chance to reply her mother began a long story. Abernethy told her to be quiet and repeated his question to the girl. A second time the woman began a story, and a second time he told her to be quiet. Then she interrupted him a third time.

"Put your tongue out," he said to the mother.

"But there's nothing the matter with me," she exclaimed.

"Never mind, put your tongue out," he commanded.

Thoroughly overawed, the woman obeyed.

"Now, keep it out," said Abernethy, and he proceeded to examine the girl.—Grand Magazine.

A Queer Complication.

In Sydney, a town of 500,000 inhabitants, one can get nothing to eat on a Sunday. Certain restaurants supply food surreptitiously, but the whole time the guests are in danger of being arrested. Once an Italian was in such a restaurant on Sunday when suddenly the police entered. The Italian was promptly pushed by the proprietor into a room where a waitress happened to be standing in negligee. Even this room the police invaded, but the waitress saved the situation by declaring that the young man was her fiancé. The young man, by the way, had been married some time. He thought that he had deceived the policeman; but, as a matter of fact, he had got out of the frying pan into the fire. One fine day the waitress called him before the courts and claimed $2,500 for breach of promise. The Italian had to pay. And then came the worst of all. His wife sued for a divorce and shortly after married another man.

Tackle This One.

The following paragraph of a hundred words is an excellent test in pronunciation. Try it first, and then go over it again, every word, in company with a good dictionary:

"Cleopatra, isolated in the oasis, soon became acclimated and had ample leisure to contemplate all the economic details of her inextricable sword. The wound resisted the allopathic misogynist, who gave a courteous diagnosis and humbly craved precedence for a tiny idyl in the form of a vase with an aesthetic acousting apparatus. This told the news like a book, but it might have been a dog living in squalor from the look she launched at him when he wrote down his address. She ate her breakfast and then fraternized with a national expert in appendicitis, who attended the obsequies."

A Plot That Failed.

A story of a plot to kidnap Queen Victoria and turn England into a republic is told in Peter Latouche's book, "Anarchy: Its Methods and Exponents." This coup d'etat was planned to take place in 1888, the year of the great dock strike in London, but was frustrated by the success of the strikers and the unexpected sympathy and help shown them by the moneyed classes. This did much to conciliate the masses, on whose help the revolutionists relied.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure vegetable glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages; no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

A BIG TIME.

Cincinnati, O., July 28.—William Howard Taft today accepted the republican presidential nomination. His official notification combined a political jubilee for the city of Cincinnati and its environs, a historic gathering of national party leaders and an occasion for the announcement by the candidate of his political tenets, designed as the text of republican oratory throughout the campaign.

Probably never before in its history had the city been more profusely decorated. By day the streets were a mass of waving colors, while by night countless electric bulbs outlined the tall buildings in vari-colored splendor and formed decorative designs of unusual beauty. Following the suggestion of the local committee in charge of notification day arrangements, the American flag has been almost exclusively used in the decoration of the city.

7 a. m.—Artillery salutes from the hilltops.

8 a. m.—Flag raising ceremonies at Charles P. Taft's residence. Cheering fails to bring Taft out, but his wife finally induces him to appear and make a brief speech to the crowd.

12 m.—Taft officially notified by senator Warner of Missouri. Delivers acceptance speech.

Cheapest accident insurance—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Stops the pain and heals the wound. All druggists sell it.

The Newest Rotary Engine.—An Effective Rat Killer.—A Tell-Everything Watch.—Our Power Reserve.—Practical Electric Agriculture.—Sunbeam Revelations.—Traveler's Tea.—Explosions from Machine Belts.

The gas turbine has made such recent progress that it promises to take its place as one of the successful motors. Such an apparatus requires a combustion chamber, in which the temperature rises above 3200 degrees F., and from this chamber the products of the combustion of liquid hydrocarbon fuel are delivered at constant pressure through carburetor nozzles to the blades of the turbine. Besides a refractory lining of carburetor, the chamber has a water-jacket coil to keep the gases cool enough for safety to the turbine blades. The problem of making the machine itself supply the compressed air needed to feed the combustion chamber has been tentatively solved, and a large turbine that has been built drives a rotary compressor with an expenditure of about half of its power, yielding, besides about 300 horse-power when running at 4000 revolutions per minute. Some turbines of 120 horse-power have been actually put to work, special application having been found in operating submarine torpedoes. The turbine alone weighs about 2.86 pounds per horse power.

A poison having the peculiarity of being fatal only to the rat tribe has been discovered in the English season or squill. Testing its efficiency, a German investigator ground some sea-onions with potatoes, and fried the mixture with fat to crisp cakes. This food surprised him by killing 43 rats in his stable the first night. Remaining rodents were shy on following nights, but after three months a second trial destroyed 32, and no signs of survivors have since been seen.

The most complicated watch ever made, the work of Louis Leroy, gives 25 different indications. It has two dials, and the mechanism, in four layers, contains 975 different pieces.

While no reliable estimate can be made of the world's resources in water power, Dr. Rehbock, of the Technical High School Fredericiana in Karlsruhe, concludes that the supply is more than sufficient for all needs now evident. Theoretically, the energy of the flowing water's on the earth's surface aggregates 8,000,000,000,000 horse power, or 143 horse power per square mile, and 5 horse power per inhabitant. Even taking the utilizable quantity at one-sixteenth of the total, an estimate regarded as much too low there will be 500,000,000 horse power, or 9 horse power per square mile, which is ten times as much as the equivalent of the 1,000,000,000 tons of coal consumed in 1907. Though the world's supply seems thus assured, some countries have a deficiency, and the apparently available 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 horse power in Germany cannot meet even the present demand. Not even approximate figures can be given for the United States, though the following data are supported by information from the best sources. New England has developed 1,000,000 horse power, which may be ultimately increased to 1,500,000 horse power; the Great Lakes region has 1,250,000 present horse power, with 4,000,000 possible; the Piedmont region on the Atlantic and South Atlantic slopes, 1,250,000 present, 3,000,000 possible; the Central Northwest, 500,000 present, 1,000,000 possible; the Rocky Mountain and Pacific regions, 1,500,000 present, 5,000,000 possible.

The forcing of wheat and other crops by electricity has been carried on at Bevington, Eng., for three years, under the direction of a son of Sir Oliver Lodge. A plot of 19½ acres is covered by a network formed of a number of lines of stout telegraph wire with thin galvanized iron cross-wires, the whole supported on 22 larch poles 15 feet high; and a 2 horse power oil engine drives a dynamo generating current that is transformed to about 100,000 volts, and is connected by the negative pole to earth and by the positive to the overhead wires. A specimen crop is 35½ bushels per acre of Canadian wheat from the electrified area and only 25½ from neighboring land—an increased yield of 40 per cent from the new method.

The snubbeam passing obliquely across our vision in a darkened room reveals dust particles whose presence in the air would be otherwise unsuspected, and by a similar method of cross illumination Prof. Molisch, of Prague, has made visible to the naked eye objects and motions hitherto seen only under powerful microscope. Bacteria are thus brought to view. With a high power instrument Dr. Robert Brown showed eighty years ago that fine particles suspended in liquid are forever oscillating, this so-called "molecular motion" being especially conspicuous in the milky sap of the Euphorbia, the globules of resin and caoutchouc floating in which have a maximum diameter of only 1-50,000 inch, or much smaller than most bacteria. The unaided eye usually perceives nothing more minute than 1-2,000 inch. When a drop of the sap on a glass slide is shifted about in a sunbeam until the proper position is found, the molecular motion suddenly flashes out as a rapid flickering and dancing of the molecules, and the effect is particularly brilliant with a black background just behind the glass. The visibility is probably due to enlargement of the retinal images by refraction.

Essence of tea is the new product claimed by an Edinburgh firm. Its preparation is the result of twenty years of research, as the fixing of the volatile constituents that give tea its aroma and cheering qualities has been a difficult problem to solve, and had been previously given up. The brewing of the fragrant beverage now becomes a matter of dropping a teaspoonful of essence into a cupful of water.

To show how great may be the generation of static electricity in German factories, Prof. M. M. Richter has drawn sparks an inch to an inch and a half long from a 5 inch belt on a wheel making 10,000 revolutions a minute. The risk of explosion in dust or gases seems to have been overlooked. Coating with bronze or aluminum powder prevented static charges, while a weekly application of acid-free glycerine was a remedy and added durability to the leather.

Why We Are All Mimics.

"If we did not cough in church, the human race would not exist." And the professor, twiddling a piece of chalk in his hand, regarded the sophomores with a quizzical smile.

"What I mean," he continued, "is that the cause of coughing is the cause of our survival. That cause is mimicry. Mimicry is a better life preserver than dectness or strength. For by mimicry we manage not to attract attention, and in prehistoric times they who attracted attention were hunted down by the tribe and roasted for dinner or hunted down by the saber tooth tiger and taken raw.

"Since those dark days mimicry has been instinctive with us. Mimicry is what causes us to follow the fashions. It causes us, when in England, to say 'cawn't' and 'lawf.' If your friend yawns, you yawn—that's mimicry. If he laughs, you laugh—mimicry again. If he snuffles, you snuffle—mimicry. And if he coughs in church, straightway you and all the rest of the congregation cough, the reason being the same one which saved our forefathers from extermination."—New York Press.

Famous Floggers.

Among English schoolmasters whose names have come down to posterity with the dubious reputation of great floggers Dr. Busby of Westminster school is the generally acknowledged chief.

Of him it is recorded that, one of his head boys having insulted a young French viscount who came to the school to demand satisfaction, he flogged the viscount first for the blood-thirsty intentions and next his friend who was the bearer of his challenge.

Dr. Valpy, too, who edited an edition of the classics, was a potent wielder of the rod. Archdeacon Groom, who was a pupil of his, tells a story in illustration of his prowess. One of the boys had been flogged by the redoubtable dominie, and the lad's father came to complain.

"Sir," said Valpy to him, "I flogged your son because he richly deserved it. If he again deserves it, I shall flog him again, and," rising, "if you come here, sir, interfering with my duty I shall flog you."

The parent fled.

A Famous Architect's Trick.

When Sir Christopher Wren was building the town hall of Windsor, a fidgety member of the corporation, so the story goes, insisted that the roof required further support and desired the architect to add more pillars. In vain did Sir Christopher assure him that the danger was imaginary. He knew better. The alarm spread, and the great architect was worried into adding the desired columns.

Years passed, and in later times, when architect and patrons were dead, cleaning operations in the roof revealed the fact that the supposed additional supports did not touch the roof by two inches, though this was not perceptible to the gazers below.

By this ingenious expedient did Wren pacify his critics, while vindicating his own architectural skill to future generations.

I'm Telling You.

Pat Murphy, who was in lodgings, was greatly annoyed by the landlady helping herself to his provisions. She began by taking a piece of his butter, and when Pat came home she said:

"Pat, I'm taking a little of your butter, but I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Next day it was an egg, and so on. Every day there was something taken and put off with the remark, "I'm not like other landladies—I'm telling you."

Of course there was never any reduction in Pat's bill. One Saturday his bill came to a larger amount than usual. Pat looked at it, bundled up a few things in his handkerchief, walked to the door and said:

"Landlady, I'm sloping. I'm not like other lodgers—I'm telling you."—London Answers.

Beautifully Arranged.

Brown—Well, you've got the quarter. Is your sister coming down?
"I've arranged it beautifully, old chap. I told her it was you first, and she said to tell you she was out, and then I said I was fooling and that it was Charley Jones, and you ought to have seen her hustle to get into a clean shirt waist! She'll be right down!"

Not Surprised.

Skipper—I am inordinately sensitive to uncongenial surroundings, so much so that the very sight of some people will give me a nervous shudder. Chipper—Oh, well, there are very few of us that do not shrink from meeting our creditors.

No Hitch.

"How did the wedding come off today?"

"Without a hitch."

"Glad to hear it."

"I said without a hitch. The bride backed out at the last minute."

Not Written.

"How do you write 'horn'?" asked the teacher of a small boy at the blackboard.

"A horn isn't written at all," answered the little fellow. "It's blowed."

Like a Bicycle.

"What does the doctor say is the matter with Mirandy?"

"He says she has pneumatic tendencies and that she is threatened with spiral trouble."—Baltimore American.

REGULAR REPUBLICANS THE VICTORS.

At the primaries held last Tuesday throughout the state, compulsory in all cities having a population of ten thousand or over, the regular republicans scored a decisive victory over the faction known as the Lincoln-Roosevelt league. The fight was to elect delegates to the state and district conventions with the view of controlling the next legislature, and thereby elect one of their own crowd as United States senator to succeed Perkins. There was a bushel of selfishness for every grain of disinterestedness in the league movement, and as the critical time drew near the voters began to get their eyes open to the motives prompting the league manipulators. The leaguers were successful in Berkeley, Oakland, Fresno, Humboldt, San Luis Obispo, and maybe Contra Costa, with the balance of the state lined up almost solidly against them. It is well the republican voters jumped on the movement with both feet, and flattened it out so thoroughly that it is not likely to give any further trouble during the campaign. Now that the political atmosphere has been cleared of this overhanging cloud, republicans will be able to get together and work harmoniously to roll up an old-time majority for Taft and Sherman.

FOREST FIRES.

Destructive forest fires have been uncommonly numerous this season. They have been raging in every part of the state, causing an immense loss in the destruction of property other than dry grass and standing timber. It may seem strange in face of the present stringent state and federal laws for protection of forests, and the presence of an army of rangers to enforce the laws and guard against fires, that these sweeping conflagrations should be apparently increasing instead of decreasing. It should be remembered, however, that we have had a phenomenally long-continued hot spell, following an unusually dry winter. During exceptionally hot summers it would be something out of the ordinary if brush fires were not more frequent than under other circumstances. Their occurrence does not necessarily imply inefficiency on the part of officials charged with the oversight of such matters. And such fires are not always attributable to the carelessness of campers or hunters. Nature herself can, and does, play the role of incendiary under certain conditions. Still there can be no question that most of them are brought about by human agency, with carelessness as a leading factor. When they do occur, however, officials and private citizens should work together harmoniously under some intelligent head for their extinguishment. When the fire fiend is abroad in his fury, it is no time to haggle over red-tape rules issued from Washington. Hard, common sense is an infinitely better reliance than a volume of general rules issued thousands of miles from the danger lines. In Calaveras county much friction is reported to have occurred between the forest service officials and local fire-fighters. The latter wanted to back-fire in accordance with methods which long experience had taught them to be most effective. The officers, on the other hand, wanted to adhere strictly to the formulated rule that back-fires should not be started at a greater distance than sixty feet from the fire line. If such a rule does exist, it is about as absurd as anything that could be imagined, and men would necessarily have to expose themselves to fearful risks in attempting to comply with it. An official in command of a fire-fighting crew should have full discretionary powers, and not be hampered by anything in the shape of red-tapeism.

Judging from the showing made at the primaries this week the democratic party in California is not going to much of a figure in the coming election—except to reveal its weakness. In many precincts they failed to make a showing, and even in cities where the McNabb and Bell forces struggled for control the vote was comparatively small.

She Lost Her Shoes.

While in Samoa Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife in a great measure did as the Romans did—that is to say, as the Samoans did. It was Louis' custom to lie abed late of a morning and spend the remainder of the time under a tree on the hill clad in light pajamas, the dress of the native Kaka. With his wife it was the same. Stays were unknown to her and a curling iron a dim recollection of a shady past. It was while Stevenson and his wife were living at Apia, in Samoa, that Mr. Heywood was appointed consul there for this country. Shortly after his arrival in the country he arranged for a reception to the English, German and American residents of the country that they might meet him in his official capacity and he them as "citizens of Samoa." Of course an invitation was sent Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife. Two days before the date of the function Mr. Heywood was surprised to receive a note from Mr. Stevenson sent by courier. The note read as follows:

Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson and Robert Louis Stevenson accept Consul Heywood's invitation with pleasure and assure him that they will be present on the evening of the 23d if by that time Mrs. Stevenson finds her other shoe. Ever thine, ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

Ancient Fashion Jargon.

The language of the fashion plate and the woman's paper is sufficiently appalling to the mere man even in these days of emancipated and, we may presume, more grammatical womanhood; but, according to an extract from a fashion journal of 1787, the jargon of those days was even more astounding. This is how the paper described the dress of a certain Mlle. D. at the opera:

"She appeared in a dress of 'stiffed sighs,' ornamented with 'superfluous regrets,' the bodice cut in a 'perfect candor' point and trimmed with 'indiscreet complaints.' Her hair was dressed in 'sustained sentiments,' with a headress of 'sustained conquest,' ornamented with several 'flyaways' and 'downcast eye' ribbons, and her collar was 'beggar on horseback' color."

No doubt all these marvelous terms conveyed some meaning to the fashionable woman of the days when French society danced on the edge of the volcano of 1789, but to their descendants of today they have absolutely no meaning.

The First Hello Girl.

They were seated around a table in a well known cafe, and the conversation had turned upon the development of the flying machine and other fruits of the inventive genius of the day.

"Tut, tut!" exclaimed a solemn faced, lantern jawed member of the party. "What of it? The old folks were not so slow. Look at the telephone, claimed as a modern invention. Why, say, it's the oldest on record."

"You better see your doctor. What's the matter with you?" asked another. "Oh, I mean it," said the solemn faced man. "Telephone service dates back to the garden of Eden—that's where it originated. The garden's call was 2-8-1 Apple."

Then he dodged the remnant of a sandwich, reached for his hat and was gone.—New York Globe.

The Insufferable Anticipation.

A young Scotch emigrant was brought before the magistrate of a Nova Scotia court, charged with having deserted his work on a certain farm without giving due notice to his employer. When asked what he had to say in his defense, he replied, "Weel, they gied me nou't but brakeshaw to eat." Brakeshaw, it may be explained, is the flesh of animals which have died a natural death. "How was that?" asked the magistrate. "Weel, it was this way. Ye ken, the auld coo deed an' we ate it, the auld steg (gander) deed an' we ate it, the auld soow (sow) deed an' we ate it, the auld bubbleck deed an' we ate it. Then the old woman deed—an' I left."—Bellman.

Hindoo Confectionery.

Like the American girls, Hindoo girls are passionately fond of sweet things. One of their candies, sadu, is very much like our plain sugar candy. It is made of sugar and milk and flavored with attar of roses. Buddhikabai, or hair of Buddha, is one of their most popular sweetmeats. It is so called because it is in fine, long strings like vermicelli. This is made of sugar and cream from buffalo's milk, which is exceedingly rich.

A Queer Twist.

The late Bishop T. U. Dudley of Kentucky declared that he was indebted to a mountaineer of that state for the most ungrammatical sentence he ever heard. This is it: "Them three Miss Blake are three of as pretty a gal as I ever see."

Beau Brummel Reprimanded.

Beau Brummel once insolently replied to an invitation to take tea by remarking that he never "took" anything but physis.

"Yes, you do," frowned his hostess; "you take liberties."

Playful Otters.

Otters are the most playful of all the animals, romping, wrestling, playing tug of war with a stick instead of a rope and sliding downhill on a slippery incline of mud which they make themselves.

Why, Indeed?

Silver is of less value than gold, gold than virtue.—Horace.

A Faithful Friend

"I have used Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by Jackson's drug store, Sagnoli, prop.

City Finances.

The financial report of the city clerk for the six months ending July 1, shows that the total receipts were $3772.50, of which $1216.50 was for street poll taxes, $2115 for licenses, and $260 for recorder's fines.

The disbursements for the 6 months were $4613.26. The balance in the treasury July 1 was $4366.01. As the property taxes will be coming in at once this balance will be increased during the next month or so by about $3,000. Outside of the salary account, the principal items of expense were $899.02 for team hire; $772.77 for labor; $110 for water, and $592.50 for street lights.
